

Protection and preventative measures for Novaschool staff

In order to coordinate all actions related to the protocols, each centre will have a contingency plan which has been assigned a COVID coordinator and monitoring committee to oversee all protocols.

- All staff will have training courses in the practice of these protocols, as well as in the necessary health surveillance and prevention measures.
- Teachers and non-teaching staff will enter the school through the assigned door, respect and promote social distancing throughout the school day and the use of masks. In addition to this, they will maintain the necessary hygiene of their own hands thus modelling their practice among their students.
- The necessary hygienic measures have also been enforced for the administrative staff in the school, and the private staff spaces will have additional cleaning and disinfection measures applied.
- All the staff of the Novaschool educational centres before the beginning of classes will carry out a specific medical test for the detection of coronavirus and therefore we will have a report with the result of each person who will establish that they can be incorporated into their position or must keep quarantine according to the protocols required. These tests will be carried out periodically to all the person of the Novaschool educational centres.
- Temperature control at the beginning of each day.
